

Lorraine May Sayle

26/11/1938 – 21/10/2003

Lorraine, with her wonderful sense of humour, twinkle in the eye and infectious laugh, brought happiness to the people around her. She was a warm, generous, compassionate and caring person who was devoted to husband Jeffrey, her close-knit family and her friends. Lorraine was very fond of gardening and also derived pleasure from watching films, cooking, listening to music and taking care of her pet cat.

Lorraine was a very keen Linedancer and remained enthusiastic about it, returning to classes after each operation and course of radiotherapy and chemotherapy. She continued dancing as long as it was possible for her. Even when it became too difficult to dance she still enjoyed attending classes, receiving in return the love and support from her many friends there.

Throughout her illness Lorraine was an inspiration to others. Constantly brave and uncomplaining, she was hopeful for the future and always able to maintain that sense of fun.

Remembering you for all the laughter and good times
In our thoughts and in our hearts you will always dance amongst us.
Love Gwennie and Debbie

With all of life's treasures and blessings without end,
You were the finest sister and even our dearest friend.
All our love
Evie, Myrtle, Ron
